Putin's alleged nationality card shows that his mother is Jewish. It is highlighted with a red box. It reads “/Евр.” at the end of her name, which is an abbreviation for the Russian word for Jew: Еврей.

By Vasya Belozerova

August 13, 2019 Anno Domini

Translated from the Russian

Vasilisa1210.ru

Russian President Vladimir Putin – half-Jewish by nationality on the mother’s side – such sensational data were published by a number of domestic and foreign media outlets. In support of this fact, the publication cites a document – an application for the issuance of a new passport of the citizen of Russia Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin, dated December 30, 2000, which indicates the nationality of the parents. According to official data, the father of the current president, Putin, Vladimir Spiridonovich, is Russian by nationality, and the mother of the head of state, Maria Ivanovna Shelomov, is listed as Jewish (Евр.).

Putin at the age of 6 with his mother Maria Ivanovna Shelomova in 1958:

FORUM-MSK.INFO

FORUM-MSK.INFO

Of course, these personal facts from the biography of the country's first person will remain secret, given that President Shelomov's mother Maria Ivanovna died in 1998, and Putin's father Vladimir Spiridonovich died in 1999. Nevertheless, as you know, the historical origin of the surname Shelomov comes from the Jewish male name Shlomo (in Russian Salomon). The end of the surname in -ov means belonging – that is, Shelomov is translated as the son of Solomon. And as we all know, Solomon (Shlomo) was the most revered Jewish king, who was considered the wisest of all people and who rebuilt the Second Temple. Another small detail – according to Jewish laws, a Jew is considered one who is born of a mother – Jewish by nationality and nothing else.

Let's see the "personal card" of Mordkho Abelevich, who was registered at the Vitebsk Investigation Department. Such "personal files" were brought up to members of the "Bund" who participated in the 9th conference of the General Jewish Workers' Union in 1912.

There are still no official documents confirming the relationship of Vladimir Vladimirovich with Blinchikov, but the face itself is present. The notorious Jewish factor. As one of our journalists said, if you look closely, you can see “Jewish ears” behind all the global events taking place in the world.

Jewish roots of Vladimir Putin

The magazine “Profile” puts forward the following version of the origin of the Putin family. According to pre-war photographs that accidentally ended up in the magazine, Putin’s family tree was restored to Putin’s grandmother and grandfather. According to this information, Putin’s grandmother married a second time to Vladimir Dmitrievich Pechersky in 1960. According to the recollections of his second wife Anna Pecherskaya, Putin's grandmother was an accountant either at school or in the village council, and her future husband Pechersky was the son of a parish priest in Chufalovo, Yaroslavl region. Pecherskaya does not give her real name, but, like her husband, calls her Lyalya. "Lyalya was pretty, a real angel" with noble urban manners and was noticeably different from the village girls.

Putin's great-grandfather served as a traveling salesman and sold Singer sewing machines. Putin's great-grandmother was a certified midwife who graduated from medical school and had the right to private practice, but her daughter Lyalya did not have a higher education. Lyalya studied financial courses and graduated from school immediately after the revolution. The first husband of Putin's grandmother left her with a child, disappointed in love. "Profile", although it does not draw historical parallels, writes that the real name of Lyalya was Rasputin, and after the change of dignity, the secular name was changed. Later, "so that the ministers of the monastery did not have bad associations, her husband entered the monastery book as Putin." From Chufalov, Yaroslavl region, where Putin's grandmother married her second husband, she moved with him to Kokand, then to Fergana, then to Rostov the Great. But, tired of eternal travel, she left Pechersky and married the Jew Epstein (he took his wife's surname), who adopted Vova Putin, Putin's father. Thus, Vladimir Putin is a Jew by his grandfather. Yes, and not even native. Although Epstein.

The electronic newspaper Petersburg News wrote that,

"Putin has already said that Jews have long aroused sympathy in him, and he recalls with joy how he grew up in a communal apartment in Baskov Lane among Jewish neighbors, the sweetest and most pleasant people."

It is quite possible that these were not neighbors, but relatives. Jewishness was not a fact that they liked to advertise. Naturally, Little Johnny Putin tried to forget about his Jewish roots.

Putin's presence at the opening of the Center for Jewish Culture and his congratulations on Rosh Hashanah added fuel to the fire of supporters of the "Jewish version" of the president's origin. Putin himself has kept a guerrilla silence, not commenting on these assumptions. A number of journalists have long noted President Putin's markedly respectful relationship with representatives of the Jewish community, the official events of which in Moscow the head of state visits repeatedly. Moreover, as you know, Vladimir Putin has always tried to build trusting relationships with the political leaders of Israel and in almost every public speech to call the Jews of Israel a fraternal people. In particular, in fact, with the coming to power of Putin in 1999, Russia's policy towards Israel has sharply changed from a negative side to a positive one. Although many decades before that, Israel was several times on the verge of clashes with the USSR, which all these years actively supported the Arab countries and regimes surrounding Israel politically and with the supply of weapons.

iran, syria, turkey and the houthi's are zionist puppets too... It seems the zionist control almost every head of country in the world. Keep exposing lil putin, also look into iran and the houthis, they are in on the satanic theater as well.

Iran buying anti missile system from russia, but anti missile systems are a hoax, so what exactly are turkey and iran buying from russia? It's all a show, the war in syria is about killing the resistance to zionist puppet al assad, same as libya.

Good work!

Wow, the tiny Jewish people are ten thousand times more competent, cleverer, triumphant, and successful than any other people on earth, so of course they rule the world. They were the source people from whom the Bible comes, with all its beliefs about God, lovingkindness, charity, family values, honesty and decency, which has shaped our civilization and which embodies its best moral values. They continue even today to contribute far more than their percentage of the population of even just the Western states to Nobel Prizes in all scientific disciplines, fully a quarter of which have actually gone to Jews, advancing all the sciences and benefitting everyone, amongst which their contributions to medicine just by itself continues to improve and saves more lives than ever before in history, for all humanity. It is obviously all a fiendish plot. The better they are the more evil they must be, since they shame all the rest of us with their enormous accomplishments and benefits to humanity. They no doubt created the pogroms of Russia in the late 19th century and the Holocaust of WWII as false flag operations, just to win a little sympathy. Hitler was no doubt a secret Jew complicit in this charade. The Iranian Ayatollah, who foams at the mouth about annihilating the Jewish state and is doing everything possible to create a nuclear bomb that nukes it, is also a Jew and is doing all that just for show. The Turkish antisemite Erdogan is another secret Jew. Everybody is a secret Jew. Maybe me. Maybe you. Whoopie.

Actually, if you refer to any table of average IQs worldwide, you will receive a nasty shock as to how super-smart the average jew is – or isn't.

Their disproportionate number of Nobel Prizes is illusory, inasmuch as the awarding is done for tribal, not scientific, reasons.

That famous man Einstein, for example, is known to have set science back by at least two centuries, by plagiarizing his data, and parasitizing what maths he ever knew or quoted, by stealing the efforts of his first wife.

The jewish religion has nothing whatsoever to do with those values you mention – they are the most racist, genocidal, elitist, and criminal race ever to have defiled the face of the earth – they do not even consider the non-jew to be men or women, but beasts and animals, who “have no place in this world”, and whose only function is to serve the jew, whom they claim will each have hundreds as their sexual and economic servants and slaves.

Enough is said about their contribution to medicine by referring to the fact that a jew is supposed to kill any Gentile who foolishly strays into any of their “hospitals” – especially if he can do so without bringing undue attention to other jews.

And such is their openness and charity to others that they are required to sign up to the concept of “moshe” which forbids any jew from informing on any other jew to the secular authorities, irrespective of the severity of the crime he has committed – and their crimes are endless, which of course explains why they have been physically thrown out of every single Gentile community they ever infected, and this for hundreds of years, until we foolishly “emancipated” them at the turn of the 20th century – and Christian civilization has nosedived since that time, as we are all aware of.

Huguenots. It is reported that John Calvin was a french Jew that had an original name that translated similarly to the French version Cohen.

During that period of time, anti-Semitism was rampant in Europe. Half of Europe was killed off because of what historians now called the Great Plague or Black Death. Many Europeans back then believed the Jews had poisoned the wells with arsenic. Many Jewish enclaves were reportedly unaffected by the plague. A large swath of Poland where many Jews resided was largely unaffected. There were Jews who reportedly confessed to contaminating wells. Meanwhile, the Catholic Church was totally corrupt. The Archbishops around Europe were financed by the wealthy banker Jews of the day. The Archbishops lived like Kings, many of them having castles which still stand today. So eventually many Europeans caught on to this and blamed the corrupted archbishops and the Jews. There were many incidents (wars) where the people attempted to go after the Archbishops and Jews. Often attacking the castles. Martin Luther, the father of Lutheranism, disliked Jews probably for the same reason much of the population did. He wrote extensively about his disdain for the corrupted Jews. Many people left the Catholic Church and it was becoming a huge headache for the controlling Jews of the day. Anti-Semitism was rampant (Spanish Inquisition for one example where Jews and crypto-Jews — Jews pretending to be something other than Jews — were flushed out of Spain). John Calvin needed to create a diversionary form of Protestantism. He and other crypto-Jews of France did just that, but were eventually flushed out of France — there was huge anti-Semitism in France and the French kicked them out. The Calvinists move to Geneva and other parts of Switzerland and were eventually kicked out of there. They moved to northern Europe with many living in England creating a branch of the Anglican Church. Many of these Calvinist – crypto Jews – often referred to Huguenots moved to the United States. Some of the Huguenots include the Waltons (Walmart), Rockefeller's, Winston Churchill, Warren Buffett, Karl Benz, many Senators, Congressman and Governors, LaFollette's of Wisconsin and co-founder of the "Progressive Party", Presidents of Countries including former leaders of South Africa and elsewhere, Franklin Roosevelt, many A-list Hollywood types, etc. There is another person on the list... Joe Biden. See <https://en.wikipedia.org/wi...> Whether these individuals are crypto-Jews would be difficult to ascertain, but it is interesting that their policies, incredible wealth and beliefs seem to be and have been in line with Zionism (radical Jews). As another side note, St. Ignatius – the founder of the Jesuits – was allegedly came from a Jewish family but "converted" to Catholicism.

He is consummate politician. ALL Jews are pragmatists. The fact that he is Jewish is emphasized by his glorification of the Soviet army and his demonization of the “naaaaazis”. His speech at the Yad Vashem sealed the deal. He is as Jewish as they come, consequently he will do all he can for Israel, against ANY goyim government – if indeed there are any left -.

If jews were a race then so would Christians and Muslims and I've never heard either of those religions etc claim any such thing.

Jews have a completely different view of a 'nation'. You assume it has to be geographical, located in a native land, fatherland, motherland, or whatnot. But Jews think they are scattered around, typically in capital cities or major ports. This means their total populations are secret, and they typically operate by collecting together forces to attack other nations. They pick them off one at a time.

I've read articles and seen comments that hinted that Putin was a Christian, but many other times referring him to being a member of the KGB as though it's a negative thing still today. I would guess that in Russia , one gets a job where one apply's or wants to use his background or education, just as in any other country. Or maybe where the opportunities and best money can be made. Putin doesn't seem to be a vicious, arrogant, or war mongering leader of Russia. It is the United States that supported communism against Christian Germany, with Ronald Reagan given credit for Communism falling, yet today , after all these years and decades, Russia must be forever our enemy as though the Jews still want Russia to be isolated from the Christian world so as to be ready to use in the future war to fulfill Jewish Old Testament prophecy of their kingdom and rulership of the world to come. "Peace" to the Jews is when they gain control of the world/

I really do not know whether Putin is a Jew and just pretending to be a Christian – or not, but I cannot see how he and Russia can continue to allow the Ukraine to continue to ignore the Minsk Agreement and let the people suffer. They are Russian in the Donbas, apparently – so let them rejoin Russia. Why must they be forced to suffer what the Ukrainians are doing to them, which sounds terrible.

Perhaps the Ukraine is just being used to cause more misery and war – by those called The Neocons?

They are all Jews – and they do not seem to be on Putin's side ?

"We Jews, the destroyers, will remain the destroyers forever. Nothing the Gentiles do will meet our needs, our demands. We want a world of our own." Maurice Samuel in his book called "You Gentiles."

It seems that the Jews are led by and used by some very destructive people.

Medvedev, also Jewish.

American Jewish blogger records:

“As a sidenote, Medvedev’s visit is all the more interesting given that he is a Jew, the son of a Jewish mother and the first Jew to become President of Russia, much less enter the Kremlin in any capacity besides the following: doctor, scientist, military hero, foreigner.

I’ve personally confirmed Medvedev’s Jewish identity with former Muscovites, who say that Medvedev’s mother regularly attended the main synagogue in Moscow”

This isn't proof. It's just Putin saving face. He can say anything he wants. He's a professional liar. Think about it. If you were part of a Jewish conspiracy, wouldn't you go out of your way to make it look like you weren't Jewish? Putin installed a Mezuzah at a Moscow synagogue. Only Jews are allowed to perform this ceremony. This is just one other example.
